

Property, Technology and Transportation insurance

For most customers, investment in tangible assets is very high. Tailor-made insurance cover that accurately reflects the value of these assets is crucial to avoid underinsurance and the resulting reduction in benefits in the event of a claim. We help you to assess the insured values correctly and to determine the level of cover required to meet your needs. This applies both to your premises and when your equipment and goods are in transit or on consignment with customers. Complex, high-tech manufacturing, just-in-time production and reduced stock levels give rise to new, less obvious risks. We help you to review your insurance cover and adapt it to the new circumstances by means of a detailed business interruption and supply chain analysis. Both the frequency and the severity of damage caused by severe weather, terrorism and earthquakes have increased significantly. However, many companies are inadequately protected against the financial consequences of these risks.
