

Cyber Insurance

Every day, cases of data loss, extortion and the failure of IT and production systems are reported around the world. It is not only multibillion-euro corporations that are affected, but also SMEs. Cybercrime has been one of the three most significant business risks for years. The most common cause of all incidents is not the IT system itself, but human error. The question is not 'if', but 'when' a cyber incident will occur.

With our in-depth knowledge, we support you every step of the way, from prevention through to the event of a claim. You can benefit from our expertise and bespoke solutions. We offer support for operations in specialist sectors and for IoT* products, and are available to discuss your risks.
